Graduate Fellows

Rhema Anazonwu

Rhema is from Houston, Texas and is the second of five children. She is a proud University of Texas Longhorn alum with a Bachelor's in Psychology. Rhema served two AmeriCorps terms at the United Way of Greater Houston. During her terms of service, she worked with elementary and middle school students involved in a peer-mentoring program. Since making the move to the Brown School to complete her MSW with a concentration in Children, Youth and Families, Rhema has enjoyed exploring her new city with her dog, Opelusa. Rhema is thrilled to be contributing to the College Prep team, and is excited for all of the things she's yet to learn from our Scholars!

Trevy Augustin

Trevy is from Granite City, Illinois and attends the Brown School, where she is pursuing a Masters of Social Work. Following her education, she wants to work in a way that will dismantle the barriers blocking marginalized youth in accessing quality education. In her free time, she enjoys Zumba, cooking, TV series, and spending quality time with her 6-year-old miniature dachshund, Ilok. She is delighted to work alongside the talented College Prep staff in preparing St Louis' brightest minds in their pursuit of higher education.

Alana Flowers

Alana is a current MSW student at the Brown School of Social Work. As a St. Louis native, she graduated from Hazelwood West High School and then Mizzou with a Bachelors of Communications. Alongside her graduate studies, she is the owner of an online vintage/clothing store and a faith-based/lifestyle blogger. The motivating force behind all of her endeavors is her 7-year-old daughter, Addyson. She is thoroughly enjoying the College Prep Program and building relationships with the scholars and contributing to their academic success.

Akua Forkuo-Sekyere

Akua is currently a candidate for her Master's in Public Health at Washington University. She is interested in working with women, children, and families in under resourced communities domestically and internationally. Akua grew up in Nashville, TN, and is the middle child in her family. Though, she grew up in the American Southeast, Akua is strongly connected to immigrant experiences in America. Akua studied Political Science and Africana Studies at Wellesley College in Boston, Massachusetts. Besides her academic interests, Akua likes to express herself creatively through art projects, and enjoys reading, movies, travelling, food, and the list goes on. She's very excited to have the opportunity to help high school students in St. Louis on their path to accomplish their goals in higher education!

Maggie Heyduk

Maggie was born and raised in St. Louis. She graduated from Saint Louis University with a Bachelor of Arts in Anthropology, French, and International Studies. After graduating, Maggie became a high school teacher in Saint Louis Public Schools, during which she also received her Master's of Education from UMSL. Maggie is now in her second year at the Brown School, pursuing a Masters of Social Work with a specialization in Urban Education. Maggie loves being a part of the WUSTL College Prep Program and learning from and growing with some pretty incredible scholars. Outside of school and work, Maggie is a proud puppy parent, an avid runner, a lover of adventures, and a BBQ sauce fanatic.

Jordan Peters

Jordan is from Baltimore, MD. As an undergraduate at Washington University, she received her Bachelors in Urban Studies and Dance, and now is working towards her Masters in Social Work at the Brown School. Jordan worked as an Admissions Officer for the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, and served as the office's liaison to the College Prep Program. Jordan currently serves as an Assistant Residential College Director in Residential Life at WashU in addition to being a Graduate Fellow for the College Prep Program. She looks forward to continuing to work with College Prep in this new capacity, and to working more closely with the great scholars!

Jamal Sadrud-Din

Degree: Social Work
Graduation Year: 2016
Summer Academy: 2014, 2015, & 2016

Hannah Sherrard

Hannah is currently completing her Master's in Social Work at the Brown School. Originally from the Seattle area, she completed her Bachelor's in Sociology at Whitman College in Washington state. She is a proud alumna of AmeriCorps and has been working in youth development and service learning at the high school level for 8 years in Seattle and Chicago. She's passionate about youth voice and leadership, equity in education and getting youth involved in making their schools and communities stronger.

Sierra Watson

Sierra is pursuing a Masters of Art in Education and Masters of Social Work from Washington University. Her previous work as a substitute teacher exposed her to the many problems urban youth in St. Louis experience. Upon graduation, Sierra seeks to obtain a school leadership position that focuses on bridging educational achievement gaps for minority students. She was born and raised in North St. Louis City, where she currently resides to this day. Her professional and volunteer work includes serving youth in schools, detention centers, residential programs, and urban ministries. She enjoys reading, mentoring, cooking, D.I.Y projects and a great Netflix movie. She is looking forward to serving the scholars this summer as a Graduate Fellow.

Austin Wesevich

Austin is from San Antonio, TX and is the oldest of four. As an undergraduate at Washington University, he received a Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry and a Bachelor of Music. He completed a Masters of Public Health from the Brown School of Social Work and is set to complete his Medical Doctorate this coming year. Austin is applying for combined residency in Internal Medicine-Pediatrics and plans to work with adults and kids in low resource settings domestically and abroad. Austin spent the past year doing HIV research in Malawi, a country in the southern part of Africa. He is very much enjoying contributing to the College Prep Program and having an opportunity to work with these wonderful scholars.
